York Museums Trust Museum Development Yorkshire

Latest news for week ending
Friday 14 May 2021

In this Issue

Dear <<First Name>>

Welcome to this week's bulletin. We seem to be getting April showers in May, but I am looking forward to getting out to museums over the next few weeks.

The Yorkshire and Humber results of the national museum development survey are now out in a valuable series of interactive graphics.

There is a final chance to be part of the Virtual Visitor Experience and a first call for this year's Celebrating Yorkshire and Humberside Museums.

Five of our region's museums are celebrating being shortlisted for the Museum and Heritage Awards - well done to all of you!

In training and development MDY continue with events on Environmental Sustainability, Collections Stores and Storage and Reopening.

It was National Limerick Day on 12 May, so we finish with a fascinating article on the limerick, and the man who popularised it - poet, painter and ornithologist Edward Lear.

Annual Museum Survey 2020

Our new survey shows Museums in Yorkshire have an economic impact of £87.5 million and attract almost 4 million adults and children to their sites each year. Between them, they employ more than 1,750 people and are supported by more than

SubscribePast IssuesTranslate ▼

These figures are from the Annual Museum Survey 2020 published by Museum Development Yorkshire. This is part of a national survey from Museum Development England, with funding from Arts Council England. The data is the most comprehensive and robust survey of English museums in more than a decade. Using the report below, we can show the social and economic importance of non-national Accredited museums to funders and stakeholders – locally, regionally, and nationally.

The data is also challenging assumptions about the nature of museums in our region and the challenges they face. With this information regional museums will be able to create evidence-based advocacy and benchmark their performance against museums across England. MDY will also be using this data to inform our plans. There is a great deal of detail in the results and if your museum would like to work with us to use this information to inform your planning or performance reviews, please contact your MDO.

We will be issuing the next version of the Annual Survey in the summer, and we would love to get an even greater response rate so we can better understand and evidence how the pandemic has affected our work and our recovery.

Museum Development Yorkshire Free peer review of your website!

Virtual Visitor Experience 2021

46 Museums signed up and counting

**Your last chance to sign up TODAY 14 May****

To get three reviews of your museum website you just need to commit your staff or volunteers to review three other museum websites over a four-week period in May and June. The reviews assess the website's visit information, online content, and social media through an online survey. In return, your museum will receive three reports from people from other museums who have reviewed your website. Training and support are available. The scheme is open to all museums in the North of England.

The last year has brought a lot of change for museums and many have responded by giving renewed attention to their online presence. The Virtual Visitor Experience programme is a great chance to get some structured and considered feedback on your digital presence from your museum colleagues. The process is also a fantastic way to develop your staff and volunteers and would work well as part of a reintroduction to work programme. Each review can be completed in 1 to 2 hours.

The programme has developed from the in-person Visitor Experience Consortium which has been running successfully for several years.

There is no charge to take part, simply sign up by 14 May using the online form: wh1.snapsurveys.com/s.asp?k=161847809969.

The reviews must be carried out by 21 June.

Coming Soon!

Celebrating Museums in Yorkshire and the Humber

Join MDY and ACE to celebrate and reflect on the projects delivered by Yorkshire's museums during the last year. We would love you to be part of our day highlighting the ambition and quality of museums in Yorkshire and the Humber.

In early July we will be celebrating the achievements of our fantastic regional museums! We are nailing down the dates and details but get your thinking caps on as we would love to have a 5-minute video from your museum to broadcast alongside a panel discussion and Q&A session.

We would love to hear from you if you have a project to share that:

- Used technology to be a more dynamic museum (either with visitors or behind the scenes)
- Helped your museum become more inclusive or more relevant to your communities.

There is no need to do anything yet apart from think about the work that you would like to celebrate with us.

2021 Museum and Heritage Awards

Shortlist Announced!

This year has seen the highest ever number of entries for the Museum and Heritage Awards, and the quality has been truly outstanding. Despite some difficult choices, the judges have now created their shortlist and it features several museums from Yorkshire and The Humber:

Peer Learning Programme

Supporting people working in engagement and participation in the visual arts

Engage
Bringing people
and art together

A programme of six virtual action learning groups will meet in June 2021. It will conclude with an online event which all participants will be invited to attend, in order to reflect and share learning with each other.

Each peer group will be brought together through a shared interest in a set topic or area of practice:

- Working as an artist in engagement and participation
- Working in geographic isolation
- 'Best practice' – innovation in visual arts engagement and participation
- Developing new ways of working
- Working with early years
- A group which takes place in the evening for anyone working in visual arts engagement and participation.

Find out more and submit your interest to join (before Monday 17 May):

FREE Sponsored Places at AIM National Conference 2021

Museum Development Yorkshire is pleased to announce that it is sponsoring three free places at this year's Association of Independent Museums Conference.

The 2021 National Conference will be held online over three days, 16 - 18 June, and brings together delegates from across the UK for engaging sessions led by practitioners, professionals, experts, and policymakers. The theme of the conference is 'Supporting. Sharing. Strengthening'.

Full programme now available at:

aim-museums.co.uk/aim-national-conference-2021.

The sponsored places are open to anyone working or volunteering in an Accredited or 'Working Towards' museum in Yorkshire and the Humber. We cannot support members of staff of National Portfolio Organisations or DCMS sponsored National Museums. We will prioritise museums that have 'Full' or 'Provisional' Accreditation. You need to commit to attending the whole conference and sharing your learning with regional

Dates for Your Diary

Elevenes with MDY - coming up

Wed 26 May **11.00am - 12.30pm** Lessons from Covid for Environmental Sustainability

Ben Melham, a specialist in estates and visitor services, joins us to reflect on what our response to Covid has shown us about doing things differently as we move forwards. What positive learning can we take from this experience? How can it help us to make our museums more resilient and sustainable?

Check the full schedule and find joining links at:

Environmental Sustainability

Museums, Communities and Programming in the Earth Crisis

Thu 10 June, 2.00pm - 4.00pm

Explore ways of talking about the climate and ecological crisis with audiences, using your museum's collections and public programme.

This session, delivered by Climate Museum UK, will explore how museums can respond as museums to the climate and ecological crisis – using collections, programming, and work with audiences, to enable people to gain awareness, reflect and take action. By the end of the session, participants will:

- Gain understanding of the impacts, feelings and possible future experiences of their communities in relation to the Earth crisis
- Have ideas for interpreting their own museum objects or site to illuminate the causes, impacts and solutions of the Earth crisis
- Start to form a plan for how their museum can play a role through their programming by engaging audiences to help communities cope, learn and take action.

places if space allows.

Book for this session at: www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/museums-communities-and-programming-in-the-earth-crisis-tickets-152475964715.

Delivering Schools Learning Online

Friday 25 June, 10.00am - 12.00pm

The potential for museums to deliver elements of their programme online has become clear as a result of the pandemic. This will be a very practical session to support you if you are thinking about incorporating online schools learning into your programme.

Emma McBeath from Leeds Museums and Galleries will share their experiences and explore what's the same and what's different about delivering your schools learning offer online. What's the potential for audiences? Most importantly, what are the practical considerations for implementing this work? The session will cover what tech you need, which platform you might use, safeguarding in online delivery, access and inclusion, and how much to charge.

There will be opportunities for questions and discussion, and a chance to think through how you will implement this work in your museum.

Booking priority will be given to non-NPO museums in the Yorkshire and Humber region. This 2-hour session will be delivered online via Zoom, with a short break.

Book at place at: www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/delivering-schools-learning-online-tickets-153772825661.

Digital Skills Day

Thur 10 June, 10.00am - 5.00pm

This practical one-day online training event will help you and your organisation build upon the digital skills you've developed throughout the Digital Heritage Lab; to help you better engage with your audiences, and to attract new and diverse audiences both online and offline.

Digital Skills Day is free as part of the Digital Heritage Lab and is for anyone working or volunteering for a small to medium sized UK-based heritage organisation.
