The changes include new eligibility criteria and a new application process:

- You'll be able to apply for up to £30,000 and get your decision within 8 weeks
- Improved support for individuals at the start of their career. We'll do this by targeting some of our advice giving at people who might not have previously applied for funding from us
- Support for museums. More museums will be eligible to apply, including those who are non-Accredited. We'll support them to unlock their collections and make them more relevant, inclusive and accessible.

Artsmark Celebration Week 8-12 November

Celebrating 20 Years of Arts, Culture and Creativity in Schools

This year is Artsmark's 20th anniversary and festivities begin with Artsmark Celebration Week from 8-12 November.

Artsmark helps schools embed arts and culture across their curriculum, inspiring creativity in children and supporting their wellbeing and progression, and ACE want to spread the word!

You can use #CelebrateArtsmark, #Artsmark20 and #ACEsupported to share and celebrate the impact your work has on young people and tell schools how to find out more.

Find out more at: www.artsmark.org.uk/artsmark20.

Yorkshire Community Engagement Band

Do you work in community engagement and want to connect with others in our region?

The Yorkshire Community Engagement Band is an informal network of museum community engagement workers who get together to share experiences, learning, support each other, or just to have a chat.

Museum Shop Sunday 28 November 2021

SubscribePast IssuesTranslate ▼

celebrate Museum Shop Sunday. It's never been more important to highlight the vital role of retail in helping arts, cultural and heritage venues to survive and thrive. Museum Shop Sunday is a fantastic opportunity to do just that!

Ways to get involved:

- Plan an event or promotion – something fun that will attract plenty of publicity in the run-up to the day
- Use the marketing toolkit to create web banners, posters and social media posts.
- Share your plans with Association for Cultural Enterprises so they can promote your event on the Museum Shop Sunday website and social channels.

What's On in Your Region?

Commonwealth War Graves Commission Centenary Free Online Talks

York Army Museum (YAM) are hosting three free online talks this November about the history and work of the Commonwealth War Graves Commission (CWGC) in its centenary year. The talks are via Zoom and aimed at ages 15 and over. YAM are working with CWGC to trial recording each talk and making it available online for 3 weeks after the live talk takes place, for those who are unable to take part on the day.

We are CWGC: 6pm Saturday 6 November

Former CWGC intern and historian, Kim Davies, will give an introduction to the history of the CWGC and an explanation of who is commemorated and how this is achieved. She will also take a look at some CWGC casualties with a Yorkshire connection and give an over-view of the on-going work of the Commission.

www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/we-are-cwgc-tickets-182106002957.

Shaping our Sorrow: 6pm Saturday 13 November

Kim Davies will look in more detail at the difficulties faced by the Commission in its early days and the controversial decisions it took which have shaped remembrance ever since. She will also give an overview of both the casualty and the Commission archives.

Assessing Your Museum's Digital Capacity

Thursdays 13, 20 and 27 January
2.00pm - 4.00pm (online)

Gain confidence, tools and resources to strategically assess and develop your museum's digital activities, in an online workshop aimed at smaller museums.

For museums to take full advantage of everything digital can offer, they must first understand how and where digital sits within their organisation. In this three-part workshop, people in museum senior leadership, alongside a colleague responsible for undertaking digital activities, will be guided through using parts of the Digital Culture Compass, a toolkit to assess their museum's digital activities. They will leave with the confidence, tools and resources needed to complete the full toolkit within their own organisation, involving their staff, volunteers and trustees in the process.

There are places for two people each from eight museums.

Bookings will close no later than 13 December so please book early:

Your DevelopmentNew Voices - Digital Storytelling Learning ModuleDeadline – 15 November*

Culture24, in partnership with Museum Development England, is offering a fully funded learning module for small to medium museums to use their collections to create, co-create and engage their communities around themes of diversity and/or decolonisation. There are ten museum places available (for two participants per museum) with the module taking place across a period of seven months, beginning in November 2021.

The module is specifically designed to help people working or volunteering in museums who are interested in how digital storytelling can be used to uncover and share different interpretations, diverse narratives and stories about their collections.

Over a period of seven months Culture24 will support the museums with five online workshops, monthly check-ins, online support sessions, project support clinics with guest experts and access to a dedicated online cohort space on Mighty Networks. The programme will support museums who have started work in any of the following areas:

- the colonial histories of objects
- opening up interpretation and education to diverse narratives
- working with diverse communities and voices to discover and tell new stories
- supporting anti-racist initiatives in the sector and beyond

By:

- building their confidence in digital storytelling
- making them part of a supportive cohort of peers
- supporting and developing their digital skills
- helping them begin to make change in the way they work.

Funding Opportunities

Collaborate Fund from the Centre for Cultural Value

Open for expressions of interest Deadline: 24 November

Collaborate supports innovative new research partnerships between cultural sector practitioners and academics which will support around 15 projects with awards ranging from £5K – £20K. Successful projects will contribute to deeper understanding of the differences arts, culture, heritage and screen makes to people's lives, and the range of research methodologies used to explore cultural value.

There will be two rounds of funding – one in autumn 2021 and one in autumn 2022. Expressions of interest for academics will be open from 6 December – 26 January.

Find out more at: www.culturalvalue.org.uk/collaborate-fund.

Google Ad Grants

All you need to know from Charity Digital

Google Ad Grants provide more than £7,500 per month of free Google Ads advertising to eligible charities.

Through Google Ads, organisations can get their website shown as an advert when someone makes a relevant Google search. The adverts can boost an organisation's visibility to its key audiences by appearing in the search results at the opportune moment, when someone is searching for topics related to their cause.

It's a great opportunity for charities to educate people on their mission and shore up support for now and the future.

Don't Forget MDY Small Grants £8,000 to be Allocated by December

In 2021-22, the Small Grant Scheme is made possible by both Arts Council England and the Art Fund. The Art Fund investment is designed to support museums, who have not had any national recovery funds from ACE or NLHF, to recover from the pandemic. We have £8,000 left in the small grant budget and the majority of this must be allocated by the end of December

MDY's Small Grant Scheme helps museums to implement advice, test new ways of working and make good things happen. It can also support personnel to attend
